Introduction

The expansive Chuo University Tama Campus is surrounded by lush greenery of the Tama hills, provides a beautiful view of the World Heritage Mt. Fuji on a sunny day, and offers cherry blossoms in full bloom in springtime. With over 130 years of practical education experience, Chuo is a comprehensive university with six faculties, twenty-four departments, and eight graduate schools. The Faculty of Science and Engineering is located on Chuo's Korakuen Campus in downtown Tokyo.

Major activities

Judges visit from Thailand!

Judges of the Supreme Court of Thailand and the presiding justice and judges of the Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court in Thailand visited Chuo University.

The former observed a moot court featuring citizen judges and had a candid exchange of views with professors of Chuo University regarding various features of the Japanese court system and Japan's Citizen Judge system. The latter heard a lecture on "Maritime Law and Law of International Business Transactions in Japan" by a former professor of Chuo University.

Joint Student Symposium in International Economics 2016

A fruitful symposium was held between the Faculties of Economics of Chulalongkorn University and Chuo University. Students made presentations in English, asked and answered questions, and had open and candid exchanges following the students' presentations. Undoubtedly this student exchange will bring further deepening of the relationship between the two universities.

Study in Thailand!

Chuo University started a new Thailand Study Program in 2016. On this year's first visit, Chuo students visited JICA cooperation projects and participated in NGO volunteer activities that are supporting vulnerable peoples in Thailand. In addition, the students spent time with Thai students at Thammasat University. This program taught them cross-cultural understanding and the importance of inclusive cooperation for societal security.
