Fukuoka Institute of Technology (FIT) is a private university that was founded in 1954. Approximately 4,500 undergraduate and graduate students attend FIT’s campus, which is located in one of Japan’s most populated cities, Fukuoka. Based on the management’s concepts “For all the students” and “Just do it”, we consistently strive to incorporate beneficial educational reforms as well as improve our student support systems through active collaboration between the faculty and administrative staff. From our efforts, we have been awarded #1 rankings in “Student Support”, “Career” and “Reform Capacity” by external evaluators for the Kyushu area.

FIT & KMITL
--- FBK is the key to studying at FIT. ---

FIT Bangkok Office was officially established at KMITL (FBK) in 2010, based on the previous academic cooperative activities with King Mongkut’s Institute of Technology Ladkrabang (KMITL) since 2008. Prospective undergraduate and masters’ students can take an Intensive Japanese Course at FBK in order to further obtain bachelors’ and masters’ degrees at FIT. Under the Framework of Agreement between FIT and KMITL, all qualified students will receive 50% exemption of tuition and other fees at FIT.

Expenses for FBK:
THB130,000 for two semesters (350 hours/semester), which include a round-trip air-ticket and the accommodation fee during a one week of study tour at FIT, Japan.
