

Osaka Metropolitan University

Osaka Metropolitan University is a new public general university formed by a merger between Osaka City University and Osaka Prefecture University and established in April 2022.

With 12 schools and colleges and more than 15 graduate schools, Osaka Metropolitan University offers numerous unique curricula designed to foster the ability to handle a wide range of issues, as well as the opportunity to gain multidisciplinary knowledge. We are proud that this university will offer every individual student an opportunity to work on achieving their full potential in their own way.
