Major activities

Nagoya University Bangkok Office was established in 2014 at Chulalongkorn University, an important Nagoya University partner institution. The Office provides a base for activities conducted by Nagoya University students, staff and faculty in Thailand and neighbouring countries. This year will mark the Office's 5th anniversary.

It is our fourth overseas office after the "Nagoya University China Center for International Exchange" (est. Nov 2005), "Nagoya University Office in Uzbekistan" (est. Nov 2009) and "Nagoya University European Center" (est. Apr 2010).

The Bangkok Office is a hub for academic activities in Thailand and other ASEAN countries. Examples include Top Global University Project on 'Asian Hub University contributing to a sustainable society in the 21st century'; Joint Degree Program between our Graduate School of Bioagriculture and Kasetsart University's Faculty of Agriculture; the Women Leaders Program to Promote Well-being in Asia; the Program for Fostering Leaders in Asia (PhD Professional), and the Program on Automotive Engineering and Automated Vehicles (COI Mobility Innovation). Through such initiatives, we seek to deepen academic cooperation with our Thai partner universities through student exchange; staff and faculty exchange; promoting joint research; and communicating information about Nagoya University.

Our partner institutions in Thailand :

- Kasetsart University
- Chulalongkorn University
- Chulabhorn Research Institute / Chulabhorn Graduate Institute
- Rajamangala University of Technology Thanyaburi
- Bangkok Hospital
