

Introduction

Fukuoka Institute of Technology (FIT) is a private institute that was founded in 1954. Approximately 4,200 undergraduate and graduate students are studying at FIT, which is located in one of Japan's most popular cities, Fukuoka. Based on the management's concepts "For all the students" and "Just do it", we consistently strive to incorporate beneficial educational reforms as well as improve our student support systems through active collaboration between the faculty and administrative staff. From our efforts, we have been awarded #1 rankings in "Student Support" and "Career" by external evaluators for the Kyushu area.

留学生別科(Japanese Language Program) is established to provide a Japanese intensive course for our prospective students to prepare for their future studies at FIT
