

The e-ASIA Joint Research Program

About e-ASIA JRP

- International joint initiative for public funding organizations in the East Asia Summit (EAS) member countries*

* 10 ASEAN Member States + 8 (Australia, China, India, Japan, Korea, New Zealand, Russia, and the U.S.)

- Established in June 2012 with aims to:
 - Energize the collaborative research community in science & technology
 - Tackle common challenges in the East Asian region
 - Obtain synergy effects through multilateral cooperation
 - Establish and develop equal partnerships
- 24 Member Organizations (MOs) and 1 Guest Partner from 15 countries are participating (as of July 2023).

 Australia NHMRC*	 Cambodia MOH* MISTI	 Indonesia DIKBUDRISTEK BRIN	 Japan MEXT/JST AMED*	 Lao PDR MOES MOH*
 Malaysia MOSTI	 Myanmar MOST	 New Zealand HRC* MBIE	 Philippines DOST	 Russia RFBR
 Singapore A*STAR	 Thailand ARDA, NRCT NSTDA, PMU-B TSRI	 USA NIAID (NIH)* NCI (NIH)*	 Vietnam MOST	 Sri Lanka NSF Guest Partner

* Funding in health research exclusively

Health

Agriculture

Alternative Energy

Disasters

Environment

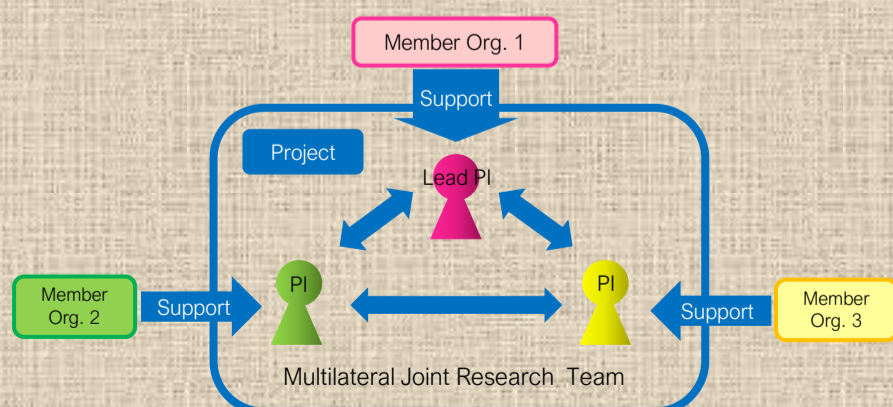

Materials

Advanced Interdisciplinary

Activities

- Promoting multilateral international collaborative research projects.
- Network-building through workshops and dialogues among researchers.
- Implemented over 96 projects and 22 events so far.

Examples of Ongoing Projects

Climate Change and Human Health in Asia: Current Impacts, Future Risks, and Health Benefits of Mitigation Policies

Associate Professor Kraichat Tantrakarnapa, Mahidol University with Japan and Australia

Integrated water resources management with wise reservoir operation

Director Mr. Somchit Amnatsan, Royal Irrigation Department with Japan and Lao P.D.R.

Genetics, Immunological and Neurological Long-term Consequences in Prospective COVID-19 Cohort in Thailand, Japan, Philippines and USA

Professor Nattiya Hirankarn, Chulalongkorn University with Japan, US and Philippines

The e-ASIA Joint Research Program Secretariat
Room 218 Innovation Cluster 1 Building
111 Thailand Science Park, Phahonyothin Road, Khlong Nueng
Khlong Luang, Pathum Thani 12120, Thailand
Tel: +66 (0)2-564-7713

Website: www.the-easia.org/jrp/
Email: easia_secretariat@jst.go.jp

